DPS NEWS FOR YOU

Welcome to the first DPS monthly Newsletter. We aim to be interesting and informative. Whilst expanding your photographic horizon, we intend to feature members' work together with interesting and challenging photographers we find hiding on the Internet. If you have a special photographer that you think might be interesting to your fellow members, then let us know and we will do the rest. If you are interested in a photographer's then just click on the link in blue and it will take you to the photographers website.

In this issue we have concentrated on landscape photography as we know this is a popular subject with our members.

Toma Bonciu landscape photographer

Toma Bonciu is a landscape outdoor and travel photographer from Romania. I've always been attracted to the visual arts and over time I've experimented different ways to produce images. For a few years, from 2005 to be more precise, I started to experiment more and more with photography and in time I found that for photography offers the chance to present the world as I see it or as a I would like it to be: beautiful, wonderful and full of mystery.

My landscapes are not a duplication of the visual reality but more an equivalent of what I saw and felt ... an image of how that landscape felt.
